Highland Park, NJ
gallerychaos@gmail.com

Jill Caporlingua's painting has progressed in stages over the past 20 years, from pure abstraction to classical drawing, but a continuous theme contemplating science and the human body forms a common thread. Most of her work is in acrylic and oils and utilizes a bold color palette. In addition to paintings sold to the collections listed below, Jill has sold over 3,500 "very small works" through the Artomat organization at artomat.org.

Jill spent five years teaching drawing and painting at The Academy of Art of Highland Park. She now gives private art lessons and group art lessons in Highland Park, NJ.
